

To A Thousand Generations

by Ryan Delmore

G                    D                    Am                    C
Father God You are so good, Your love goes on and on
G                    D                    Am                    C
Father God You are so good, Your love goes on and on

(Chorus)

C                    D                    C                    G                    C G
Cuz You are faithful to a thousand generations
                  D                    C                    G                    C G
You are faithful to a thousand generations
                  Em                    Am
You're reaching out to heal and save
                  Em                    Am
Your lovingkindness never fades
                  C                    G/B                    Am
The same today as yesterday
                  G D
On and on forever

G/B
