

You're Welcome Here

by Bob Bennett

C F
Lord, I hear you knocking, You been knocking at the door
Am C
How long have you been waiting
F G
Seems I never really heard you before
C F
I've kind of let the place go, I'm ashamed at what you'll find
Am C
But you can make yourself at home
F G
If you're sure that you don't mind

(Chorus)

G F C
Cause when I cry, the roof leaks
F C
And when the wind blows, the walls are weak
Am C F
But a house is known by the company it keeps
Am F
And I feel better now that you're near
Am F G
And I want to make it clear, Jesus, from now on F G C
You're always welcome here

C
There are dark rooms deep inside me
F
Where your light has never shown
Am C
And I tried to hide inside them
F G
But I guess you've always known
C
That one day you would call me
F
and I'd awaken from my sleep
Am C
And you'd take me just the way I am
F G
And you promise you'd keep me.

(Chorus)
